

Patricia A. Crane, PhD, MSN, RNC, WHNP
Assistant Professor

Patricia A. Crane, PhD, MSN, RNC, WHNP is Assistant Professor at the University of Texas Medical Branch Galveston School of Nursing. She performs clinical forensic examinations with Child Abuse and Forensic Services in Beaumont , Texas . She was Graduate Forensic Nursing Faculty at Duquesne University and University of Pittsburgh for the past 6 years and has had over 15 years of experience working with hundreds of victims of violence, performing clinical forensic examinations, forensic consulting, and courtroom testimony in sexual and domestic violence cases with abuse victims of all ages. She has over 20 years experience in providing health care for women, lecturing on women's health, violence and abuse issues, and participating in a variety of educational experience planning and carrying out research projects and education programs.